Adults should choose low fat varieties but these are not suitable for babies and young children. One serving is a cup of milk, a pottle of yoghurt, two slices of cheese, two scoops of ice cream or one cup of milk pudding.

In a typical month, an average healthy child will have about four episodes of pain related to injuries and disease (eg, falls, sprains) and one 'ache' eg, headache or stomach ache.

It is worth the extra time and effort to understand and treat pain in children. See if your child can tell you where the pain is or observe their behaviour if they seem unwell or are behaving differently from normal eg, quiet and withdrawn, or tugging on their ear (ear pain).

Threadworms are the most common worm that people catch in New Zealand.

Take care to prevent re-infection by making sure children and adults in the household:

- Wash hands thoroughly before eating food and after the toilet
- Scrub underneath fingernails and keep them short
- Have a daily shower/bath
- Have the toilet seat cleaned daily for a week after treatment
- Have bed linen and towels washed frequently

Just as threadworm is easy to catch, it can be treated easily and effectively with a single dose of Combantrin-1
